

Paddington Academy

Introducing our international school partner

Nkhamenya Secondary School

Kasungu, Malawi

International links at Paddington Academy

At Paddington Academy we are dedicated to the promotion of global awareness among our students, this is with a view to broadening their horizons, encouraging tolerance and preparing them for the social, economic and environmental challenges of the future.

Staff and students alike have opportunities to become involved with international education projects. This is to enrich our educational experiences by sharing our knowledge and understanding at a global scale.

Where is Malawi?

Where is the school?

School facts and figures

- 500 students
- It's a girls school
- Students are 11 to 19 years old
- Selective boarding school
- 70 students in each class
- Funding is provided by the Govt and the Church
- Each term is three months long - with no break!
- The teachers are nuns
- They have to employ a guard by the water pump as people keep stealing bits off it.

Why have an international school partner?

- To broaden our students' experience and perception of others.
- To share teaching and learning skills with other teachers.
- To gain International School status.

What will make this a successful partnership?

- Regular communication!
- Sharing examples of our student's work with Nkhamenya.
- Peer assessment of Nkhamenya students' work.
- Sharing events in our school calendar to celebrate together e.g. World Environment Day, Business and Enterprise week.
- Incorporating activities with a Malawian theme e.g. Maths problems, folk stories
- Photos from school events.
